If you need to communicate a clear message to a highly targeted audience, our clean, professional, user-focused print and web designs are your perfect match.

WE DRAW IN THE AUDIENCE SO YOUR CONTENT GETS NOTICED.

We help nonprofits get their messages noticed, read, and acted upon by designing clear and targeted pieces that grab the attention of their members and prospects.

We help electronic publishers ensure their online research tools are easy to use and speak to highly targeted audiences.

We've been creating quality, engaging print and web design projects for clients in healthcare, publishing and the nonprofit world since 1997. We are a small firm, so you get the benefit of our low overhead costs paired with the experience of a seasoned Creative Director for each and every project. And, when we need help with the workload, an extra set of eyes, or an answer to a tough web development problem, we have people to turn to.

Annual Reports

Independent Sector's 2008 Annual Report serves as a call to action for the organization's members—nonprofits, foundations, and corporate giving programs—during a challenging economic time.

Online Research Tools

For CQ Press' Elections in West Europe online research tool for universities, we delivered an engaging, student-friendly design which is fully scalable to accommodate different user types.

Advocacy Brochures

The American Health Care Association's Quality First: Keeping Our Promise brochure encourages assisted living facilities to use AHCA's programs to help give the highest quality care to their seniors.
